CHAMPION BROOKLYNS APPLY THE WHITEWASH BRUSH.

New Yorks Surprise the Pittsburgs and Win -Chicagos Keep Up Their Great Walk by shutting Out the Bostons-Quakers Bent St. Louis in Ten Innings-Other Games. Jerry Nops pitched a fine game for the champion Brooklyns yesterday and the Cincinnatis rere whitewashed. Hanlon's men have a lead of 87 points, which should bring them back in good trim to resume the battle at Washington Park next week. The Philadelphias, by wining a ten-ianing contest at St. Louis, pulled away from the Pittsburgs, who were unexpectedy beaten by the New York tailenders. The buskers hold second place by a margin of 17 points, which cannot be considered safe at this stage of the proceedings. The Chicagos kept their wonderful winning streak by shutting the Bostons out and reduced the lead of the Pittsburgs to 24 points. The Chicagos have now ron eight straight. The results: Brooklyn, 2; Cincinnati, 0.

Chicago, 2; Boston, 0. Philadelphia, 3; St Louis, 2. THE RECORD.

CINCINNATI, July 5 .-- To-day's game was a battle royal between Southpaw Nops and Newton, and the former finally won out. Nope was as near invincible as possible, and Corcoran's single in the first inning was the only hit made off his delivery. Newton was hit much harder, but he received great support which kept down the score. The fielding was fast on both sides, and no errors were made. Dahlen's hitting was responsible for Brooklyn's two runs. In the seventh he tripled and scored on Cross's single, and in the ninth he doubled cross's single, and in the ninth he doubled, stole third and scored on Daly's out. Capt. Falley was out of the game with injuries received at St. Louis. First Baseman Jack Doyle of the New Yorks and Umpire Bob Emslie, who engaged in a fight at the ball park were fined the costs in the police court to-day. Doyle did not appear, but sent in a written plea of guilty. The score:

PITTSBURG, July 5.—Ritchey, one of the most reliable of fielders, had an off-day, and through his bindering and the hard hitting of Selbach New York scored an easy victory. Four of the winners' runs could have been cut off by clean playing at second base. Only three hits were made off Leever, who relieved Waddell at the end of the fourth inning. New York's patchedup infield wabbled at times, but, as usual, Pittsburg could do nothing with Carrick's made by the visitors figured in the run getting. Carrick helped his pitching by fielding his position beautifully. Two singles, a steal and Ritchey's slow return scored Hickman in the third. Selbach's triple, Doyle's hit, a base on balls and Ritchey's error produced three in the fourth. Selbach's double and Ritchey fitumble scored one in the fifth. Another error by Ritchey, two singles and a wild pitch netted two runs in the eighth. A base on balls a single and a double scored the plate in the sixth on his double, an out and Beaumont's beingle. CINCINNATIS BLANKED, charges Edward Barrows, who manages the forentes, with assaulting him, and although the baseball men are trying to fix up the matter, they have not succeeded. The case was to ter, they have not succeeded. The case was today adjourned until next Monday, when the Canadian team will be in Syracuse. The Judge refused to allow an adjournment until the Toronto team plays here again. It seems that Barrows did not suppose there would be agame at Culver Park in this city yesterday morning because of the rain. Buckenberger took his tossers to the park, and when the rain ceased Umpire Rinn called up Barrows at the Hotel Livingston and ordered him to produce his nine. This was a difficult task, as the nine had scattered around the city. At 11 o'clock he was ready to start, when he received a second telephone message that the game had been awarded to the Rochesters.

phone message that the game had been awarded to the Rochesters.

About noon the two managers met at the Livingston and a heated argument ensued. Barrows accused Buckenberger of sharp practice, while the latter urged that he had been very lenient and courteous in notifying him that there would be a game when all he needed to do was to ask that it be forfeited because the Torontos lailed to appear. Buckenberger made a pass at Barrows, but friends pinioned his arms. While in that position Harrows struck the Rochester man a stinging blow in the face, knocking him down and blackening his right eye. Friends assisted him into the hotel. Later in the day he swore out a warrant for the arrest of Barrows.

DOYLE CANNOT BE PUNISHED.

Brush Says There Is No Way to Stop Assaults

Upon Umpires. The assault committed by Jack Doyle, first baseman of the New Yorks upon Umpire Robert Emslie at Cincinnati on Wednesday was witnessed by John T. Brush, president of the Cincinnati club, who once tried to rid the game of baseball of the rowdyism that has dragged the sport into the mire. Brush is quoted as saying:

The assault was a disgrace to baseball, but there appears to be no way to inflict punish ment upon Doyle. When the League voted me down on my Board of Discipline proposime down on my Board of Discipline proposition, it simply encouraged players of the Doyle stripe to commit just such acts as this. It was my idea to give to the Board of Discipline power to punish offenders against the rules of order and decency, but I found myself in the minority. Consequently, it is safe to predict that Doyle will not be disciplined."

There is just one instance where a player of the League has been disciplined for rufflanism. "Jock." Halligan slugged a fellow player, "Cub" Stricker in Boston about ten years ago and was suspended indefinitely. He was reinstated after a lay-off of five years and is now in a minor league. Doyle, Jovce, Gleason, Lajole, Hawley, Clarke, and others have assaulted fellow players and umpires of late, but have not been punished. The League believes in thug baseball, so there's no further explanation of the methods of the magnates. The umpires are terrorized. Emalie and Lynch, both assaulted by Doyle, refused to make complaints. It was not good policy, as the League's custom of backing up the players against the umpires is well known.

Against Dovle.

WASHINGTON D. C., July 5.-The assault upon Umpire Emsile by Doyle of the New York Club yseterday may cost Doyle a fine and suspension as soon as President Young completes his investigation of the matter. Speaking of the case to-day Mr. Young said:

"Judging solely from press accounts, Doyle's offence is of too serious a nature to overlook. offence is of too serious a nature to overlook. This is Doyle's second offence in the fighting line, but he will not escape an investigation this time and a thorough discipline if found gullty. I have been advised from several quarters to suspend Doyle at once, but in accordance with the League constitution this cannot be done until the offending player receives a hearing. I expect to get affidavits from Emsile and disinterested parties in a few days and will then go West mygelf in place of Inspector Day in order to probe the matter and also to learn the player's defence. I expect to reach Cincinnati Saturday."

Stimmel, Cincinnati's new pitcher, is said to re-semble the late Dave Foutz. Kerwin, the Buffaio pitcher, is such a heavy hitter that he leads off in the batting order. McGraw is playing great ball for St Louis and is already named as Tebeau's successor. It is said that on the last Eastern trip several of the St. Louis players were fined by Tebeau for misconduct.

Pitcher Dunn, who has been nursing a lame arm, has rejoined the Brooklyns and will resume work in the box in the near future.

Hugh Jennings of the Brooklyns leads the League first basemen in fielding. He has made one error in the last twenty-eight games.

For the first time in two months the Cuban X Giants will play in this vicinity next Sunday. They will meet the West New York F. C. at Weehawken in the third game of the season between these teams.

The Western papers accuse the Brooklyns of playing rowdy ball. They say that even pea eable lave fross kicks now in true New York fashion. At home the Champions usually behave themselves, Manager Hanion and President Ebbets travel with the team and are responsible for the behavior of the players.

There is a rumor current that Frank Selee, the well-known manager of the Bostone, will soon be replaced by Hugh Duffy. The latter has been laid off because of poor playing and is practising daily on the Boston grounda. Soden and Conant, two of the Boston club owners, say that they are satisfied with Selee. The latter has been ill, and has also been unjustly pounded by several would-be critics.

LAWN TENNIS.

Two Sensational Semi-Final Matches in the Middle States Tourney.

Only two matches were played yesterday afternoon in the Middle States championship lawn tennis tournament at Orange, but they kept the spectators in a tremble of excitement for several hours. Davis beat Wright only after one of the most sensational matches on record, the score of the deciding set being 18-16, while the Clothier-Ward semi-final was going on in the adjoining court. This furnished one more surprise in this surprising tournament, for Ward was beaten in another sensational match, with the last set at 13-11. This leaves Clothier, a comparative outsider, although the champion of Pennsylvania, to meet Davis in the finals to-day. The Philadelphian will represent the half of the tournament meet Davis in the finals to-day. The Prinagerphian will represent the half of the tournament which included Larned, Hall, Ward, Fischer, Hackett and Davidson, all of whom were thought to be stronger than Clothler.

In the Davis-Wright match the interscholastic champion showed all the experience and judgment of a veteran, with a splendid burst of speed that fairly swept Davis off his feet at intervals. His play was an exact counterpart of ex-Champion Bob Wrenn at his best. Davis won the first set after some close play, but Wright had all the better of the second from the start.
The third was stubbornly fought from start to finish. Wright led at 4-2 and 5-3, but Davis took the ninth and tenth games in good form and a long deuce-and-vantage struggle followed. Eleven times Davis won the vantage game after that, and each time Wright brought the score back to deuce by winning his service game. Finally, Wright lost his service, the last point on a double fault, and took the set and match. The score of the last set, is games to 16, creates a new record among highclass players in this country, the longest previous set between expert players being when Larned beat Howland, 15-13, at Orange five or six years ago.

Ward missed an easy chance to beat Clothier ward missed an easy chance to beat Clothier Ward missed an easy chance to beat Clothier in the second set and the Pennsylvanian's steadiness pulled it out by 9-7. In the deciding set Ward led at 4-1, but again Clothier crawled out of a bad hole and tied the score at 5-all. After that the server kept winning his game up to 11-all, when Clothier gathered in two straight and the match was his. The result was as much of a surprise as Hall's defeat of Larned, or Ward's victory over Hall. The scores follow:

Championship Singles—Semi-final round—D. F. Davis heat B. C. Wright, 6-4, 3-6, 18-16; W. J. Clothier beat Holcomb Ward 4-6,0-7, 13-11.

Clothler beat Holcomb Ward 4-6,9-7, 13-11.

HE MAKES THE OUTWARD TRIP AT GARDEN CITY IN NEW FIGURES. Juniors Put Out for the Semi-Finals of the Amateur Championship-The Issue Resta Between Harriman, Douglas, Lockwood and the Metropolitan Champion-Gossip. A crucial stage in the amateur golf champlonship was reached yesterday at the links of the Garden City club. The issue of the round was to determine the four who would remain in for the semi-final round this morning. The eight who started included three of the junior set as well as Reid, Jr., who, until this year, counted as a college player. The more experienced set of players carried off the honors of the day and the pairings in the semi-finals will be Travis against Lockwood and Douglas against Harriman.

Lockwood is an English-trained golfer; Douglas owes his prominence in the game to his youthful matches on the old St. Andrews links in Scotland; Travis, though he learned the game here, is an Australian who has become a naturalized citizen, while Harriman is on hi native heath.

There was splendid weather again for the players, although, until the afternoon breeze came up, the heat was burdensome. The U. S. G. A. officials, with Secretary Hubbell of the home club, were again on hand to expedite matters, but there were not as many visitors as had been expected. Still there was a "gallery" to follow each match, and the links were made picturesque by the contrasting colors of red golfing jackets and bright summer dresses, which showed up vividly against the background of green turf and distant trees.

The juniors did not succumb without a desperate struggle, but the hardest match of the day was between Reid and Lockwood. They went out in the morning in terrific golf. Lockwood scoring 36 to Reid's 39. Lockwood was 3 up at the turn, but Reid outplayed him on the homeward journey, and at the end of the morning play he was but 1 down. At the end of the second eighteen holes they were all square, but if Lockwood had not topped into the pond he would have won the match right there. The strokes were Lockwood 89 and Reid 87, not as good as they had made in the morning. Setting out to decide the tie, three holes were halved in fine golf. Playing the next they were both well over the bunker on their drives. Reid had to play the odd, and he pulled a cleek shot into the trees near the fifth tee. He overran his approach, so that Lockwood took the decisive hole in 3 to 7. The cards were:

Using a niblick or a mashle, Stuart pitched out in a deft way, and, rolling gently across the green, the ball dropped with a thud into the hole. An analysis of the scoring, especially on the out holes, shows a distinct advance on the play in any previous amateur championship and it compares favorably with the play in the same fixture abroad. To-day's pairs will bring out possibly as good golf as a John Ball, Jr., or Harold Hilton might do. Travis, it is expected, will gain an advantage over Lockwood, but the latter will hold his own by his brilliancy. A sample of his play to-day was that after pulling his drive in the afternoon behind the brick house, he lofted over it and won the hole in a par four. Douglas and Harriman are both on their game. The former, however, is playing better golf than when he met Harriman in the final at Onwentsia last year. The match play rounds will start at 10 A. M. The summary:

ESPERANZA LEADS 30-FOOTERS.

Brisk Yachting Off Newport-70-Footer Rainbow Has Another Trial. NEWPORT, July 5 .- There were four of the 30footers in to-day's race, which was sailed in a brisk, southerly wind, making a most exciting contest. It was a sweepstake race over a course eight miles dead to leeward and return, the start being made from Brenton's Cove, with the outer mark at Half Way Rock. All the owners sailed their boats, the guests being Miss Brooks on the Wawa and A. H. Paget on the Hera. The Hera got the start by three seconds, all be ing over inside of seven seconds, and with spinnakers to starboard they started up the bay. The Esperanza soon took the lead, the Hera dropping to fourth place. They rounded the outer mark as follows: Esperanza, 4:25:40; Wawa, 4:25:47; Dorothy, 4:26:20, and Hera,

It was a beat home, all the boats keeping the east shore with the exception of Dorothy who sought more wind under Jamestown, but the boats finished as they rounded, the Esperanza winning by 28 seconds. The summary:

up the Sound. She was sailed to-day by Mr. Vanderbiit, and Capt. Parker stood by giving advice. To-day's brush was with the Yankee, sailed by Mr. Herman B. Duryea, and in a beat eight miles to windward the Rainbow was beaten at least five minutes. The Yankee came out first and was well under the Jamestown shore when the Rainbow came out of the cove and headed out to sea. She was well out by Castle Hill, at least three miles away, when the Yankee started after her. It could be seen that the Yankee was slowly closing the gap. In three tacks she took the weather position and when Brenton's Reef lightship was reached she was in the lead. It was figured that in this sailing the Yankee had made up about five minutes. Both boats heeled well and the Itainbow's sails seemed to be the better fitting, the Yankee's being baggy on the reach. The yachts jogged together out as far as Point Judith, when the wind dropped and they came home slowly under spinnakers. The Virginia has gone to Bristol.

INTERNATIONAL CRICKET.

The Haverford College Boys Defeat a Strong CHELTENHAM, England, July 5 .- The second game of the Haverford College cricket team was played here to-day in the presence of a large crowd of spectators. The opponents of the Americans were the picked players of Cheltenham [College, who, in the game played four years ago, easily defeated the Haverfordians by six wickets. The visitors were, in consequence, most anxious to obtain the victory, and by a splendid exhibition of the game in all its branches, they succeeded by fifty-two runs. No individual of the Haverford team was responsible for the victory, but particular praise is due to L. W. de Motte for his capital bowling, and to W. W. Justice for his fine batting. With the wicket hard and fast, it was fully expected that when the Cheltenham men fully expected that when the Cheltenham men won the toss, they were in for a good score. R.S. Bridge and J. Plowden made a splendid start, too, but Capt. Hinchman changed his bowling with splendid judgment and the inning was all over for 124.

W. W. Justice and C. J. Allen then made a splendid beginning for Haverford, but the latter was unfortunately run out when he had 19 to his credit. Justice, however, kept up the good work until he reached 56, while S. W. Mifflin, D. A. Roberts and F. W. Sharp all helped in the general result. The score:

CHELTENHAM COLLEGE, HAVERPORD COLLEGE.

Total......124 Extras The next game will be played at Clifton on Saturday, where the strong team of Clifton College will be encountered. The Haverford team will be changed for this game, as F. C. Sharpless and C. C. Morris, who could not sail on the Pennland, arrived to-day. They will take the places of J. S. Brinker and F. W. Sharp. places of J. S. Brinker and F. W. Sharp.

The St. Paul's team in their first inning made 122 runs, and for the loss of four wickets in their second had 47. a total of 199, and leaving them only 23 runs to win. They were not able to get these in before stumps were drawn in the evening, but the American cricketers had made it a draw. To-morrow they play a match with All-Halifax.

TROTTING AND PACING.

Public Betting Barred at the Matinee of the

There will be no public betting at the races of decision was reached by the Executive Committee at a meeting last Tuesday. When the fficers of the organization rented the Empire City track for $300 a day and decided to admit all members and their families free, the plan to ell pools was suggested as a means of making both ends meet, $200 having been offered for the privilege. The by-laws expressly forbid pool selling aud book-making, but it was believed that the by-laws might be changed so as to permit betting. Robert Edwin Bonner and other members fought the scheme, however, and it was abandoned when the Executive Committee met on Tuesday.

Both horses are handsome as well as fast. Their new owner bought them to drive on the road in London. They are to be shipped on Saturday. De Cernea has lately sold a pair of trotting-bred road horses to Frederick Vanderbilt. It is said that Mr. Vanderbilt still owns his father anoted old road team, Aldine, 2:10½, and Early Rose, 2:20½, and that one of the De Cernea pair is sometimes driven in double harness with the mare that trotted in 2:15½ to pole with Maud S., 2:08½. De Cernea says that Early Rose is at the farm of Dr. W. Seward Webb, near Burlington, Vt., and that she has produced two or three foals.

Axtello, winner of the 2:30 trotting race at Readville, with a maiden record of 2:15, was formerly owned by S. A. Paddock of Brooklyn. His present owner, the Hon. Frank Jones of Portemouth, N. H., bought him last winter for 35,600 at the closing-out sale of trotters and pacers belonging to Mr. Paddock's cetate. The horse was bred by W. A. Sanborn, a banker of Sterling, Ill., and was foaled in 1894. His sire was Axtell, 2:12, and his dam was Nethla, by Combat, son of Hero of Thorndale; grandam Mary (dam of Superior, 2:17¼, and Ovid. 2:18½), by Woodford Mambrino. Ben Rennick of Glens Falls developed his speed and drove him a trial in 2:12½ last October. He will go from Boston to Detroit, where he is entered in the $10,000 Merchant's and Manufacturers' Stakes. Hyita, the big chestnut mare that forced Axtello to troi three heats in 2:15½, 2:15½, at Boston, is another green one of fine promise, by Dexier Prince out of Helena, 2:11½, by Electioneer. She is in the stable of James Golden and is extensively engaged at the leading meetings.

Sagwa, the green trotter that scored a record of 2:13½ in his first winning heat at the New England Breeders' meeting last Monday, will be remembered as the horse that Thomas W. Lawson of Boston bought for $7,100 at Madison Square Garden last winter. Sagwa is a Missouri product. His sire was Saywa, a son of Onward, 2:25½, and Abby Westwood, by Westwood, the son of Blackwood. Their new owner bought them to drive on the road in London. They are to be shipped on

Although Brooklyn's new Speedway from Twenty-second avenue to King's Highway has been formally opened it is far from being in the condition desired by the drivers. John F. Cornell of the Parkway Driving Club said yesterday: "It will take a lot of travel over that stretch before it is fit for speeding. It is not fit for driving now. I took Supt. Quinn of the New York Speedway over it the other day and when I told him it was the 'Speedway' he was amazed. He said he expected to find some finished road that was away from the main boulevard and secluded, and had expected to find a rival to the New York course for trotters. He was greatly disappointed over the what thing."

The discontented ones can gather some reassurance from the statement that the formal opening did not mean that the work of the department was terminated. The finishing touches are yet to be made and when they are completed it is said the road will be truly a speedway. stretch before it is fit for speeding. It is not fit

Moth Miller's Fast Mile at Readville.

New England Trotting Horse Breeders Association at Readville was brought to a close this afternoon with a good card. It took five heats to finish the 2:25 trot and the race lacked sensational features except that Walter Keim and Minnie Wilkes, the favorites, did not get places in the first heat. Keim did better in the second and won in a driving finish. A choice lot of five animals came out for the 2:08 pace, Moth Miller being the general favorite owing to the circulation of a story that the roan had gone a haif in 1:00½. The Hartford people were with Dan Q. and backed him heavily. It was a duel between the two all around the track, Moth Miller coming fast in the stretch and taking the heat in 2:07, the fastest mile paced this year in a class race. Summary:

SPALDING SAILS FOR PARIS.

The Director of Sports Confident That American Athletes Will Be Victorious. A. G. Spalding, the American Director of

Sports at the Paris Exposition, sailed for France

on the La Touraine yesterday. The trip is a continuation of his wedding journey, as Mr. Spalding was accompanied by his bride. Mr. Spalding was enthusiastic over the prospect of success of the international games at Paris. He has devoted much thought and time to the meet, and within a week of his appointto the meet, and within a week of his appointment in April last had the entire rules and regulations as compiled by the French authorities translated into English, printed introduced translated into English, printed introduced translated into English, printed introduced States. He then made a flying trip to Paris, and after perfecting arrangements there returned to the United States and secured the greatest aggregation of athletes that has ever gathered together.

Mr. Spalding has faith in the abilities of the American athletes and declared that they would return to America with nearly every prize worth having. Before leaving Mr. Spalding received word from Paris that all the running races in the Olympian games will be on grass.

ning races in the Olympian games will be on grass.

At the same time Mr. Spalding received information that an important feature of the exhibition will be "life saving on land and water." This will include the actions and duties of a fire engine, hose cart and hook and ladder company while at a fire. It is said that Kansas City will send a crew and that $15,000 has been contributed to defray their expenses. Mr. Spalding's assistant since his appointment has been J. E. Sullivan, the Secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union, whose thorough knowledge of the subject will greatly facilitate matters. Mr. Sullivan is already on the ground in Paris and the interests of the American athletes will be carefully looked after.

fineola Sails Against Altair, but Is Withdrawn for More Important Engagements. The circuit race of the Indian Harbor Yacht Club was sailed yesterday on the Sound off Greenwich, the yachts being started at a line near Captain's Island. Vice-Commodore august Belmont with his fleet of jyachts, visited Indian Harbor in time to take part in the sport. His fleet consisted of the steam yacht Scout, the 70-foot sailing yacht Mineola and the Kingfisher and Sandpiper, two 18-foot sloops that are raced by his sons. Commodore Belmont went ashore at once and visited the Regatta Committee to find out if a race could be arranged for the Mineola. The other 70-footers are all at Newport and so the Commodore was willing to make almost any kind of a match. Cord Meyer was there with his new Herreshoff yacht and a special match was arranged between the Mineola and the altair, the Mineola to concede full time allowance. Then Commodore Belmont entered the two small sloops to be sailed by his sons. The Kingfisher was in the name of august Belmont, Jr., who is 17 years of age, and the Sandpiper was in the name of Raymond Belmont, who is only 12 years. These two boys race and did remarkably well with them. The first yachts sent off were the Altair and the Mineola. Shortly after 4 o'clock the sky in the west grew very dark and a storm threatened. When it looked as though it would break soon the Mineola lowered her mainsail and withdrew from the race. The Scout towed her back to the starting line and Mr. Belmont sent a letter to the Regatta and Mr. Belmont sent a letter to the Regatta Committee stating that owing to important racing arrangements with the other 70-footers next week he did not care to get the Minela's sail wet and so had withdrawn from the race. But for this he said he would have stayed out all night if necessary to finish.

Another special race was arranged between the Mira and the yawl Albicore. The owner of the Mira, charles Lane Poor agreed to allow the Albicore double her regular time allowance, which amounted to 7 minutes 30 seconds. On the broad reach across the Sound to the first mark the Mira drew away from the Albicore, but in the calm spot the two yachts got on even terms again. When the new wind came they both went home very fast, but the Mira could not get far enough ahead to save her handicap, and the Albicore won. Each of these boats received a walkover prize by the club as the regular class prize.

The Awa and Mariquita raced for the class K prize, and the Awa won. The Mariquita did not fulsh. The vawl Spindrift receduration.

The Awa and Mariquita raced for the class K prize, and the Awa won. The Mariquita didnotfinish. The yawi Spindrift raced against the Freya and won easily.

In class 7 there were three starters. They crossed the line in this order: Alerion, Enpronzi and Oiseau. The Alerion, which now has a new and much larger rig, drew away, but at the first mark the Oiseau closed up on her, and it was very close between the two boats. The Oiseau did very well on the windward leg and soon took the lead. She managed to hold the light breeze until she had turned the windward mark, and then was becalmed for some time. When the southwesterly wind came she made a quick trip home and won easily. The Alerion was second and the Enpronzi third. Robert Bacon's 30-footer Veda had no competitor, and she sailed over alone, but tried what she could do with the regular 30-footers. She was beaten by the Oiseau and the Alerion.

Six yachts started in the raceabout class. They crossed in a bunch and kept well together until they hauled on the wind. Then the Spindrift took the lead and turned the second mark elightly in advance of the Scamp Johnston de Forest, as soon as he got the Scamp around this mark, kept well to the westward to try and get the new wind which was slowly coming across the water. He showed good judgment in this move, and, getting the new wind first, sailed home a winner with Spindrift second. Commodore E. C. Benedict sailed over the course in the knockabout. Wyntje and although this boat carries less sail than the raceabouts the Wyntje made better time than the Kenosha, Raider and Snapper.

C. T. Pierce sailed the cathoat Dot against the Windora. The Dot took the lead on the windward leg and, keeping in front to the finish, won handily. Four yachts started in class V and the winner was A. M. Bradley's Vera. She beat the Kazaza, sailed by H. Morse, the Psyche and a new boat.
